Raminder is a family practitioner who specialises in care proceedings. She represents all parties including local authorities, parents and Guardians.

Prior to joining Chambers, Raminder was an in-house barrister for a local authority.

Raminder qualified as a solicitor-advocate (civil) in 2012 and has specialised in children law ever since. She transferred to the Bar in March 2020. Raminder has extensive experience in complex care proceedings, in particular, cases with an element of:

Sexual abuse
Non-accidental injury
Neglect
Domestic abuse
Substance mis-use
Mental health
Special Guardianship Orders
Adoption
International placement of children

Raminder is experienced in matters involving Child Arrangement Orders and injunctions under the Family Law Act.
